

Marc Audet Songwriter Bio

2024 January

Marc Audet is a folk music singer/songwriter specializing in historical songwriting. Hailing from Deep River, Ontario, he has been performing throughout the Ottawa Valley since 2014, accumulating over 450 shows. The history and heritage of the Ottawa Valley is a focus of Marc's songwriting, reflecting his keen interest in history.

In 2019, Marc released his debut album The River, a studio album with a full band backing him. In 2020, Marc developed a unique show involving storytelling and songs about the Ottawa Valley, Forgotten Memories of the Ottawa Valley, earning him a Certificate of Congratulations from MPP John Yakabuski. In 2021, this folk show was recorded and it is available to audiences interested in historical songwriting. In 2022, Marc brought together other musicians to form the folk music group North Renfrew, available for folk music festivals. In 2023 Marc released an EP entitled Open Water, and he embarked upon another studio recording project to produce a new album entitled Those Days (to be released in February 2024).

Musically, Marc has something to say.
